There's so much more to explore!

Leon Steves/Big Bay Preserve, south end of Division Road, Queensbury — This 68-acre preserve, above the Hudson River's Big Bay, has 2.4 miles of trails through woodlands and wetlands and connects by bridge to the Hudson Pointe Nature Preserve, managed by Queensbury Parks & Recreation.

Clendon Brook Preserve, south side of Corinth Road, approximately 500 feet west of the intersection with VanDusen Road, Queensbury — This preserve is an 11-acre oasis with a mile-long trail and two wooden bridges over Clendon Brook.

VanDusen Preserve, northwest side of West Mountain Road, 0.3 miles north of the intersection with Aviation Road — This 51-acre preserve features a 2-mile-long trail going up and around a wildlife haven of wooded glades.

QLCNY

Queensbury Land Conservancy was created by local residents who share a commitment to preserving and enhancing the natural and recreational resources of the area for the benefit of current residents and future generations. Our mission is to work with all sectors of the community to conserve land and resources in a manner that is consistent with responsible development.

Queensbury Land Conservancy, Inc.

169 Haviland Road Queensbury NY 12804 518-415-7633 qlcnytrails@gmail.com

Queensbury Land Conservancy, Inc. is a local, 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to preserving the natural beauty of Queensbury by conserving valuable natural and cultural resources.

Support for Queensbury trails

Queensbury Land Conservancy could use your support.

Please consider:

- a monetary donation
  - donating land
  - volunteering

For more information about making a donation, please call 518-415-7633.

Use your smartphone's camera and donate with PayPal

Sullivan Preserve

This wooded preserve was donated by Robert James Sullivan in 2017.

QLC Nature Trail Distance: 2.5 miles of trails Uses:

Preserve boundary Area: 70 acres

Leashed dogs are welcome. Please clean up after your pets.

